

The Canton Union School District #66 has four of its five schools identified as Title I Schools. They are Eastview Elementary, Lincoln Elementary, Westview Elementary, and Ingersoll Middle School. CUSD #66 has historically had the following Title I Schools in Federal Improvement Status:

- 2010 - none
- 2009 - none
- 2008 - Ingersoll Middle School - Academic Watch
- 2007 - Ingersoll Middle School - Academic Watch

During the 2008-09, the district was required to offer school choice and supplemental educational services to eligible students at Ingersoll Middle School. Ingersoll Middle School had 103 students eligible for these services. Since the district had no viable option to transfer students to another middle school in the Canton Union School District, no students participated in the school choice option. One Ingersoll Middle School student participated in the supplemental educational services option.

During the 2007-08, the district was required to offer school choice to eligible students at Ingersoll Middle School. Ingersoll Middle School had 105 students eligible for school choice. However, the district had no viable option to transfer students to another middle school in the Canton Union School District. Therefore, no students participated in the school choice option.
